THE LAUSANNE "BOMBSHELL".

Turks Said to Be Pleased.

A FRONTIER SETTLEMENT.

(Reuter's Service.)

Paris, November 26.
Le Journal's Lausanne correspondent says Mr. Child's statement was a bombshell at the conference, especially to the British delegates, but the Turks were pleased because Turkey has promised so many things to so many people that she is finding it difficult to steer a safe course.

The Figaro's correspondent is of opinion that the statement was aimed not only at the San Remo agreement but also at the Franco-Komalist agreement.

An American Explanation.

Lausanne, November 26.
It is learned from an American source that Mr. Child's statement was merely a clear exposition of the traditional policy of the United States in favour of the open door.

It had no ulterior motive and does not represent any new policy with regard to American interests in Europe or anything else. The statement was made yesterday because Mr. Child considered the moment propitious at this early non-committal stage of the conference.

Nevertheless the statement surprised some quarters, and some persist in believing it was not entirely unconnected with the question of oil.

Russia's Delegates.

Berlin, November 26.
Part of the Russian delegation, headed by Rakovsky, has arrived, en route to Lausanne.

A Week's Work.

Lausanne, November 26.
The sum total of the week's work of the conference has been to settle Turkey's European frontier along the Maritza, leaving West Thrace to Greece, and to establish a broad demilitarized zone between Turkey on one side and Greece and Bulgaria on the other; and incidentally to carry out the promise of the Treaty of Neuilly by giving Bulgaria an outlet to the Aegean at Dedeagatch or its neighbourhood.

There are indications that there is a good chance of the conference succeeding. After Thrace, Turkey's Asiatic frontiers will be considered, then the all-important question of the Straits, on which matter the Russian delegates are en route to Lausanne.

The return of Turkey to Europe has again created a Balkan bloc consisting of Greece, Rumania and Yugoslavia. Bulgaria has declined to join the bloc, owing to Greece's opposing the cession of Dedeagatch to Bulgaria, while Turkey is apparently willing to pay the price of Bulgarian co-operation.

GERMAN BUDGET DEFICIT.

Co-Operation Aimed At.

Berlin, November 26.
In the Reichstag, Herr Cuno announced that he would shortly summon a meeting of Premiers of the Federal States to secure their co-operation in solving German problems.

Germany's budget deficit was now 300 thousand million marks of which only 45 thousand million was covered by this year's proceeds from the compulsory loan.

VON MULLER'S PROPOSED LECTURE.

Cincinnati, November 26.
Mr. Hamilton Cook, the national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, declares that the Veterans will do everything legal in their power to prevent Captain Von Muller, the ex-commander of the German raider Emden, from carrying out his proposal to lecture in the United States shortly.

INDIAN COAL EMBARGO.

Delhi, November 26.
The Government of India announce the provisional removal of the embargo on the export of coal on January 1. If the distribution scheme introduced last July works well, the entire removal of the embargo is possible.

M. CLEMENCEAU EXPLAINS.

New Haven, Connecticut, November 26.
M. Clemenceau declared that he did not charge the British with wilfully permitting the sinking of the German fleet in Scapa Flow.

THE TOLL OF THE MINES.

Santa Fe, November 26.
Seven persons were killed and thirty injured in the mine disaster here.

"SUI AN" PIRATES.

Return of the Gunboats.

The fleet of gunboats that started out on the punitive expedition against the Sui An pirates who are believed to have their headquarters at Shan Mai, returned to Hongkong during the week-end. In the absence of any official pronouncement on the matter, it is not known whether any results were achieved. A measure of co-operation is reported to have been obtained from Chinese gunboats in the search.

The police officer accompanying the expedition is back also and is preparing a lengthy report to his superiors.

ATTEMPTED ARSON?

Police Officer's Good Work.

What is believed to be an attempt at arson was frustrated by the prompt action of Sergeant Ellis early this morning. The odour of some burning substance attracted the officer's notice and he went on to the staircase of No. 7 Shing Oi Street to discover that a pile of sackings, well saturated with kerosene, was burning on the steps. The fire was the n spreading to the side of the staircase, but by the officer's prompt action and with the assistance of Chinese detectives the flames were extinguished before much damage was caused. The incident is believed to be connected with the watchmen's strike. No arrests have been made.

SHANGHAI'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

Easy Win for Mr. Ferrier.

MATCH PLAYED IN BITTER WEATHER.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Nov. 26.
Mr. J. B. Ferrier won the Golf Championship by defeating Mr. C. T. Beath by 15 up and 13 to play. The match took place in a driving gale, with several degrees of frost—the most bitter weather conditions since the Championship was inaugurated.

In the semi-finals, Mr. Ferrier beat Mr. W. D. Lancaster by 9 up and 7 to play, whilst Mr. Beath beat Mr. K. M. Cumming by 7 up and 6 to play.—Ed. H.A.T.

POLITICAL MUDDLE IN PEKING.

Will the President Resign?

Peking, Nov. 26.—Most conflicting reports are in circulation regarding the political situation and the activities of the various groups now engaged in bitter strife.

The President undoubtedly intended to issue a Mandate accepting the resignations of Wang Chung-huai and his followers, but circles unfavourable to Parliament say that a group of members, learning of the President's intention, and wanting Chang Shou-tseng appointed as Acting Premier, visited the Presidency yesterday afternoon and strongly protested against the appointment of Kao Ling-wei. At any rate, no mandate was issued.

Kao Ling-hung and Sun Tsin-lin identified themselves last evening with the resignation of Wang Chung-huai in a circular telegram signed by all the late Cabinet Ministers except Kao Ling-wei and Chang Shou-tseng, stating that the Cabinet had resigned and they did not intend to attend office further.

It is reported that Kao Ling-hung will proceed to Pootung and Loyang to-morrow. Meanwhile it is reported that President Li Yuan-hung intends to quit, and that Kao Ling-wei and Chang Shou-tseng will nominally be Cabinet members as potential Premiers.—Reuter.

THE PEKING SENSATION.

Lo Wen-kan Returns to Gaol.

Peking, Nov. 26.—A Chinese news agency last night reported that the judicial authorities had issued a fresh warrant for the arrest of Lo Wen-kan, but this is denied to-day in official circles, where it is stated that Lo returned to the Procurator-General yesterday on his own accord on the ground that it was not right for him to remain in the Presidential premises while under arrest.—Reuter.

ABODE FIXED NOW.

Present Address "Victoria Gaol"

When a Chinese detective caught a coolie on board the Kiangsi without permission on the 25th, the captive had no fixed abode. Comdr. Backwith, at the Marine Court this morning, fixed his residence for the next month by giving him a month's hard labour.

It appears that about three o'clock in the afternoon the detective noticed defendant with a bag of raw, good rice on his shoulder. The ship was discharging rice at the time, so the guardian of the law asked the coolie where he got it. He replied that it was given him by one of the crew. This could not be substantiated, however.

The coolie told the Marine Magistrate this morning that the bag contained only rice sweepings and he was hungry.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

A. B. Stewart Wins For Third Time.

AN EASY VICTORY.

Mr. A. B. Stewart beat Mr. T. W. Hill in the Golf Championship at Fanning yesterday seven up and five to play. This is the third time Mr. Stewart has won championship honours, the other occasions being in 1916 and 1919.

Except for a cold wind, the weather was ideal, and both in the morning and in the afternoon a large number of members followed the pair round.

The play was not of a high standard for a championship match, bogey being beaten on only three occasions.

In the morning at the Gem by Mr. Hill and in the afternoon at the Twins and at the Horizon by Mr. Stewart. Neither of the players was up to his usual form.

In the morning Mr. Stewart missed a number of easy putts. Mr. Hill was nearly always outdriven and, although he did well on the green on occasions, he was inclined to be erratic.

Mr. B. D. Crawford Morgan was in charge of the game.

The approximate morning scores were:

Stewart: Out, 5, 5, 3, 5, 5, 6, 4, 5, 5; Home, 6, 5, 3, 6, 5, 5, 4, 5, 5; Total, 88.

Hill: Out, 6, 5, 4, 5, 5, 6, 4, 6, 6; Home, 6, 5, 2, 5, 4, 6, 6, 5, 5; Total, 91.

The afternoon scores were:

Stewart: Out, 4, 4, 3, 5, 4, 5, 4, 4, 6; Home, 5, 6, 5, 4, 4, 5, 5, 5, 5; Total, 59.

Hill: Out, 5, 6, 4, 5, 5, 6, 5, 4, 7; Home, 5, 5, 4, 5, 5, 5, 5, 5, 5; Total, 65.

Morning Afternoon Total for Round. Round. 31 Holes.

Stewart 88 59 147

Hill 91 65 156

The Play.

The first hole went to Stewart, 5-6. At the Twins, Hill got into the rough, but recovered well. Stewart all but reached the green with his second shot. He approached well, but failing to hole in quite near, he allowed Hill to halve. At the Bamboo, Stewart drove on to the green from the tee. Hill failed to reach it by a few yards. Hill's second stroke placed him within a couple of feet or so of the hole. He failed to get the ball down at this short distance, however, and the hole went to Stewart. Stewart drove off badly at the rise, but luckily his ball jumped the bunkers. Hill went off the fairway to the left. Stewart reached the edge of the green with his third stroke. Hill got the green in two, but only halved it. At the Dip, Hill got on to the green in two. A beautiful putt by Stewart saved the hole for him, and four strokes each saw both balls on the brink of the hole. The Long Hole was halved in six and the Bog in four. At the Gap, Stewart failed to clear the bunkers with his drive from the tee. Hill's first stroke put him down in the ravine. He took two to get out and on to the green. He failed badly in putting and the hole went to Stewart, 3-6. At the Turn, Hill duffed his second shot, taking four to reach the green. Stewart won the hole 5-6, making him 4 up (43 strokes to 47).

The Homeward Journey.

Stewart drove well at the Saddle, but failed in putting. Hill with his fifth got on the lip of the hole, halving in six. Hill drove off two balls at Land's End, as it looked as if his first had gone out of bounds. It was all right, however. Hill reached the edge of the green with his third. Stewart's third stroke placed him within about half a dozen feet of the hole. Hill did well to halve in five. Hill won his first hole at the Gem, one under bogey. Using their irons, both reached the green in one.

Hill's ball was only a yard or so from the hole and his second shot put it down. Stewart got in the bunkers at the Horizon, but recovered without difficulty. Hill was nicely on the green in three, while Stewart got on to the bank to the right.

Hill took the hole, 5-6. Stewart missed an easy putt at Sandy's Pulpit, and this hole, too, went to Hill, 4-5. At the Armchair, Hill's drive off from the tee was poor. Stewart was stronger, but he went off the fairway to the left. Hill's second putt him in the rough. He recovered well and was on the green in three. At three strokes each neither had much advantage. Hill's poor putting gave Stewart the hole, 5-6.

Hill duffed his second stroke at Braeside. His third was a nice one and placed the ball a couple of yards or so from the hole, but his weak putting again lost him the point. At the Pass, Hill played one of his most brilliant strokes during the game. He holed from a distance of seven or eight yards—a beautiful shot—and won a point which before looked very much as if it would go to his opponent. Stewart got into the sand bunker at the 18th. Both players did the hole in bogey. Stewart now stood 2 up (83 strokes to 91).

In the Afternoon.

The afternoon's play commenced with Stewart two up. Getting into the rough with his drive off from the tee, Hill lost the meadow, 4-5. At the Twins, Hill's putting was weak, and Stewart beat him by two strokes. At the Bamboo, Stewart placed well. Hill's ball dropped a few yards from the green. Hill brought off a rather fine putt here, his ball stopping just short of the hole. Stewart took it, 3-4. At the Rise, Hill got on the green in two but, missing an easy putt, only halved the hole. The pair halved the Dip in bogey, and Stewart won the Long Hole on his driving. The Bog went to Stewart on his putting. At the Gap, Stewart failed to clear the bunkers and Hill went into the rough to the left. There was some rather fine putting here by Stewart, and the hole was halved in four. At the Turn, it took Hill five to get on the green. Stewart had six strokes to hole and Hill seven.

Nearing the End.

At this stage it looked as if the next hole might see the end. Stewart was 8 up and 9 to play. Hill had not taken a single hole during the afternoon's play. Hill began to recover, however, on the homeward journey and there was some hope of him giving Stewart "a run for his money." The pair halved the Saddle, and Hill then had to win every hole to even things up by the 38th. Stewart drove off badly at Land's End and this, combined with some good work on the green by Hill, gave the latter the hole. At the Gem, Hill got well on the green with his drive off from the tee. Stewart's ball went down into the ravine and Hill took the point, 4-5. The Horizon saw the end. Stewart holed in four, while Hill took five, making Stewart the winner, 7 up and 5 to play (147 strokes to 156).

Presentation of Trophies.

At the conclusion of the match, the Championship and Runners-up trophies were presented to the winners by the President of the Club. Addressing the company assembled outside the Club house, the President said he was sure all would agree with him that they were very meagre-looking cups he had been asked to give away, and he thought they had better ask the winners to return them to the Committee in order that they might be replaced by something more worthy of the occasion. It was a mistake to entrust the buying of the cups to the Captain, who was bound to win one of them. (Laughter). "I think you will all agree it has been a very nice game to watch," Mr. Stephen proceeded. "I am afraid there is no escaping the conclusion that the best man won. His play was of a steadiness and brilliance which well deserved to win the Championship of this Club. It was a pleasant game. There was no question of internationalism about it, because both men in the final are Scotsmen—a very satisfactory state of affairs." Mr. Stephen having congratulated Mr. Stewart on his victory handed him a "temporary cup." To Mr. Hill he said, "I am almost ashamed to offer you this. It will hold a record for a long time for a glass of whisky, but we must try and get you something that will hold beer." (Laughter and Applause.) Both Mr. Stewart and Mr. Hill made brief acknowledgments.

SHARE GAMBLING.

The Greenfield Case.

Judgment was delivered on Saturday in the case in which several brokers sought to have Samuel Greenfield, of the "Do be Chairful" chair shop, adjudged insolvent, in consequence of his failure to pay £250,000 losses incurred in selling short during the recent boom in China. Provident shares. The Court found in favour of the petitioners and ordered that a receiving order be issued.The Chief Justice, delivering judgment, said: This is a creditors' petition for a receiving order.
The petitioners are two sharebrok-ers and the claim is in respect of certain share transactions. The petition is opposed on the following grounds:

- That the petitioners have been guilty of a breach of duty to their client which should disentitle them to the order asked for in this Court in bankruptcy jurisdiction.
- That the debts alleged are of a gambling and illegal nature and are irrecoverable in law.
- That no act of bankruptcy has been committed.

I will deal firstly with the last ground. The act of bankruptcy alleged is that the debtor has given notice to certain creditors that he has suspended or that he is about to suspend payment of his debts within sec. 3 (1) (b) of the Bankruptcy Ordinance, 1891.

Suspension of Payment.

The evidence as to notice of suspension of payment is contained both in affidavits of witnesses and in oral evidence given in these proceedings in support of these affidavits, as follows:

Mr. Razack, one of the petitioning creditors, in his affidavit of 29th Sept., 1922, states, "I was informed by the said debtor on the 26th day of September, 1922, and I verily believe that he had no money and was not going to pay anyone, and he further stated that the only thing he could do was to transfer his business to all us brokers." In the witness box Mr. Razack confirmed this statement as follows: "On September 26th, settling day, I saw Mr. Greenfield. He told me 'I have no money to pay. I am not going to pay anyone. All you brokers can have my shop.'"

Mr. Carvalho, assistant to Mr. da Silva, the other petitioning creditor, in his affidavit of 29th September, 1922, states as follows: "On the 26th day of September, 1922, I called upon the above named debtor and asked him for a cheque for $11,917.50, being money due to the said P. M. N. da Silva on Stock Exchange transactions. The above named debtor informed me that he was absolutely bankrupt and that he had no shares to deliver and no money, not even $500. He further stated that the said P. M. N. da Silva could have his business." This statement the witness confirmed in the witness box.

Mr. Lammert, a sharebroker, in his affidavit, of 29th September states as follows: "On the morning of the 26th September, 1922, I visited the above named debtor at his premises No. 51, Queen's Road Central, Victoria, aforesaid, and asked him for scrip for 1,000 shares in the China Provident Loan and Mortgage Company Limited, in pursuance of a contract with my firm to deliver the said shares to my firm on that day. He told me that he had no shares and that he was bankrupt, and that we could take his furniture and factory." This statement the witness confirmed in the witness box.

Mr. Kitchell, another sharebroker, in his affidavit of 29th September, states as follows: "On the 26th Sept., 1922, I attended upon the above named debtor at No. 51, Queen's Road Central and tendered to him cash for 500 shares in the China Provident Loan and Mortgage Company Limited. The above named debtor informed me that he had no shares and that he was going into bankruptcy as he had not even enough money to pay his workmen."

Evidence Unchallenged.

Now the debtor was not called and there was practically no cross-examination of these witnesses on this point. The foregoing evidence therefore remains unchallenged and I have to decide whether it amounts to a notice of suspension of payment within sec. (1) (b) of the Ordinance. That sub-section is taken verbatim from the Imperial Act (The Bankruptcy Act, 1883).

The learned counsel for the debtor submits that a declaration by an outside trader to sharebrokers of his inability to pay is not a notice of suspension of payment within the meaning of the sub-section. He contended that there is a distinction between ordinary creditors in the ordinary course of business and between broker and creditor, and that no ordinary creditor was called to prove notice of suspension of payment. The learned counsel relied on two cases: (1), Ex parte Ostler re Friedlander 13 Q.B.D. 471; (2), Clough v. Samuel, 1903 A.C. 442.In the former case (Ex parte Ostler) it was held that the notice must be given formally, deliberately and with the intention of giving notice, and therefore that a statement by the debtor that he is unable to pay his debts in full was not an act of bankruptcy.I may observe that there was a decision of a Divisional Court of contemporaneous date (Ex parte Nicoll 13 Q.B.D. 470) which was accepted Ex parte Ostler, that the notice may be given orally to the debtor to one of his creditors.

Precedents.

Well now, before referring to the facts in Ex parte Ostler, I observe that later cases have laid down that the question whether or not the contents of a notice to creditors constitute an act of bankruptcy is one of fact to be decided in each case (Re Lamb 4 Morr. 25). The effect produced on the mind of the creditor by a notice of the words of which infer an intention to suspend payment is a general test which may be applied in answering this question. (Re Lamb supra and Crook v. Morley 1891 A.C. per Lord Melbourne at p.321).Now in Ex parte Ostler the debtor, after stating that he was unable to pay his debts, offered 20 per cent. dividend and said he would obtain assistance from his brother in law if he could arrange with creditors. Cotton L.J. said: "But the debtor did not in fact intimate either that he had suspended payment of his debts, or that he had any intention of stopping paying his creditors. He only said: My assets are insufficient to pay my debts in full. If my creditors will make an arrangement with me, I can obtain assistance from my friends. That was not an intimation that he had suspended, or that he was about to suspend payment of his debts: it was only an intimation that the creditors would get more in that way than they were likely to get in any other. To my mind, there is a great difference between saying, 'If all my assets are distributed my creditors will not get 20 in the pound' and saying 'If any creditor comes to me in the ordinary course for payment I shall not pay him, or I have suspended the payment of my debts.'"

Final Notice.

Well, to apply that language to this case, I accept the contention of the learned counsel for the petitioners that an attempt to negotiate on a 20 per cent. offer is very different from a refusal by a debtor to pay anybody, combined with an offer to the claiming creditors to take his business. Nor do I think that Mr. Greenfield's statements made to four distinct creditors could be regarded as "casual talk" or "not as a notice that he had suspended payment," within the language of Lindley J. He was confronted on settling day by these creditors who had come to him for the purpose of settlement which had to be made on settling day, and he tells them that he cannot pay anybody, that he is bankrupt and that they could take his business. The language contains no tentative proposal: it is final.

As to the other case relied on by Mr. Zeitlyn (Clough v. Samuel 1903 A.C. 442), a stock broker being hopelessly insolvent told his Stock Exchange creditors that he would have a difficulty in paying them at the approaching settlement and suggested that they close their accounts with him which they did. It was held there was no intention to suspend payment of his debts and that no such notice was given within the meaning of the sub-section. There is, I think, no legal analogy between that case and the one before me as is demonstrated in a judgment of Lord Halsbury p.445. The debtor stated that on the approaching settlement day he would have difficulty in paying, whereas Mr. Greenfield makes a clear statement of his insolvency on settlement day. Lord Halsbury said: "I have no doubt he was hopelessly insolvent. I think he had no intention to suspend payment. I dare say a business man would infer that he was likely to do it, or perhaps that he was likely even to become bankrupt; but he would infer that from the circumstances and not from anything said by the debtor."Then Mr. Alabaster cited the case of Crook v. Morley 1891 A.C. 316. It is a decision of the House of Lords and the facts were that a debtor sent to his creditor this letter: "Being unable to meet my arrangements, as I told you, I invite your attendance at (a specified place and time) when I will submit a statement of my position for your consideration and decision." It was held that the letter would naturally induce the creditors to believe that the debtor intended to suspend payment of his debts, and therefore amounted to a notice that he was "about to suspend payment," within the meaning of the sub-section.

Clear Intention to Suspend.

Firstly I notice that it was a circular addressed to all the creditors, but having regard to the terms of the sub-section and the authority of Ex parte Nicoll, notice to any one of his creditors is sufficient. Lord Selbourne L.C. adopted the language of Bowen L.J. in re Lamb, to which I have already referred, as the true test, "What effect would the circular produce on the mind of a creditor receiving as the intention of the debtor with regard to his creditors?" Lord Watson said: "The Bankruptcy Act, 1883, does not prescribe any form of words for a notice under sec. 4 (1) (b). It therefore appears to me that any notice will be sufficient which is expressed in the terms calculated to convey to its recipients the information that their debtor has suspended or is about to suspend payment of his debts."Both of the noble and learned Lords of Baginly, L.J. in Ex parte Ostler repudiated the contention that the declaration, caught not to be treated as an act of bankruptcy under subsection (b) because the Legislature has by sub-section (f) provided as an act of bankruptcy the filing in Court by the debtor of a declaration of his insolvency. I am clearly of the opinion that in the case before me there was a clear intention on the part of the debtor to suspend payment of his debts, and that his creditors, in the terms of the language used by him, could come to no other conclusion.

I may add that at the close of the argument Mr. Zeitlyn drew my attention to the case of Ex parte Scott, 1896 1 Q.B. 619. That case decided that a statement by a debtor, to amount to a notice of suspension of payment, must be one which means that the debtor intends to deal with his creditors as a body, and not merely with one or more individual creditors. It also decided that the sub-section applies to non-traders as well as to traders.

The facts were that a debtor, in reply to a request for payment of a creditor's account said "No I won't pay anybody now," and when urged to see the applicant she said, "It is too late. I am acting under advice and I refuse to see anybody at all." Vaughan Williams J. in his judgment said: "What she was really saying was: 'I cannot pay you or anyone else. I have taken advice and I am advised that I must deal with my creditors collectively.' And he held that it amounted to a notice of suspension."

Now I think the case before me is analogous and probably an fortiori one. The debtor told several of his creditors "I have no money. I am not going to pay anyone," and he added, in reply to certain of his creditors, that he was bankrupt.

The Gambling Plea.

As to the other two points, I can deal with them briefly. To establish that the contract is vitiated as a gambling transaction, the learned Counsel for the debtor contended (a) that by virtue of section 5 of the Supreme Court Ordinance, 1873, the Act of 7 George II. Cap. 8 is in force in this Colony and, (b) that the last named Act makes all share transactions by way of wagering illegal.

Now the authorities on Stock Exchange transactions in relation to gaming and wagering are examined fully in 27 Halsbury at page 259. He states that "although it is possible to gamble or speculate on the London Stock Exchange, it is almost impossible to make a contract there which is void as a gaming and wagering contract." The authority cited is Thacker v. Hardy 4 Q.B.D. 686, a decision of the Court of Appeal.

In that case the plaintiff, a broker and member of the London Stock Exchange, sued the defendant for commission and for an indemnity in respect of certain contracts into which he had entered pursuant to instructions of 8 and 9 Vict. c. 104 sec. 18 (The Gaming Act 1845). It was held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover.

After dealing with the Act of 1845 (8 and 9 Vict. c. 104) which is not in force here, Lindley J. deals with the statute 7 Geo. II. cap. 8. The Act prohibits gambling in "any public or joint stock or other public securities whatsoever," and Lindley J. says "It required a statute (7 Geo. 2, c. 8), to prevent gambling in the public funds; and notwithstanding the strong condemnation in the preamble of such gambling, the Act itself was repealed in 1860 by 23 and 24 Vict. c.23. Moreover, even when the Act was in force, gambling in shares and foreign stocks was held not to be illegal, either under the Act or at common law." Earlier in the judgment he says (p.687). "It has been held that although gaming and wagering contracts cannot be enforced they are not illegal," and he refers to Fitch v. Jones 5 E. and B. 233.

The judgment of Lindley J. was affirmed in the Court of Appeal.

A Valid Contract.

In Hibbellewhite v. McMorine 8 L.J. Ex. 271, which was a case of a deal in Railway shares, the head note reads: "If a party contracts to sell goods to be delivered at a future day, of which he is not possessed at the time of the contract, nor has entered into any agreement for the purpose thereof, nor has reasonable expectation of becoming possessed thereof, within the time limited for the fulfilment of the contract, otherwise than by purchasing them after the making of the contract, such a contract is nevertheless valid." Parke B. said: "No legal principle is endangered by allowing parties to sell goods of which they are not possessed. A transaction of this sort cannot be considered a wager, because both parties are not cognisant of it; nor has it any tendency to injure the public. Indeed the fewer the restraints imposed upon the contract the better."In my opinion the foregoing authorities dispose of the contention urged on behalf of the debtor that these share transactions, i.e. the sale notes taken in conjunction with the Bye Laws endorsed on the back, are illegal as wagering contracts. For the purposes of the argument I have assumed that the Act of 1843 (7 Geo. 2, c.8) is in force here. It was as a fact repealed in England 1860. I need only further observe on the point that there is nothing in Ex parte Garden 52 Sol. Journal 209 that has, I think, any bearing on this case.On the further point I am asked, owing to the circumstances of this case as disclosed in the cross-examination of witnesses, to refuse to exercise jurisdiction in bankruptcy, and it was suggested that "other sufficient cause" has been shown within the meaning of sec. 7 (4) of the Bankruptcy Ordinance to justify the dismissal of the petition. The authorities are collected in Williams on Bankruptcy p.53, which indicate the views taken by the Courts as to the words "other sufficient cause," and they show, I think, that the words are construed as being ejusdem generis to the preceding words in the sub-section. No authority was cited to me to show that any breach of duty, if such existed on the part of a petitioning creditor, is a ground for dismissing a petition within the meaning of the sub-section.

I make an order for a receiving order.

ITALIAN CLUBS BAN SIKI

Rome, November 15.—Efforts to arrange a match between Battling Siki, the Senegalese, who recently knocked out Georges Carpentier in Paris, and Giuseppe Spalla at Milan, has resulted in closing the doors of all Italian boxing clubs against the Senegalese.

REALLY GOOD SPECTACLES

are such a comfort to tired or strained eyes that their value cannot be over-estimated. If your eyes need glasses, they should have the best you can get. That means (1) careful and expert examination; (2) precision in the making; (3) adjustment to a nicety; (4) the best of materials. All the above, the Hongkong Optical Co., successors to Clark & Co., manufacturing and refracting opticians, the most competent optical establishment in South China, located in 53, Queen's Road Central, offer you. Testing the sight and fitting glasses is their exclusive business.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

TURKEY AND THE BALKANS.

Paris, Nov. 25.
It is reported from Constantinople that the Commandants of the Allied police have decided to entrust the policing of the city to the Turkish police, only intervening when their own nationals are affected.

From Angora an official statement denies the reported decision to expel the whole Christian population of Anatolia. It adds that Christians are pursuing their occupations in peace. Those who have left have done so under the free right of movement recently allowed.

Lausanne, Nov. 25.
The First Commission deliberated the sub-commission's report, which proposes the demilitarisation of a zone of thirty kilometres on each side of Maritza, and the formation of an international commission to construct and supervise a freeport at Dedeagatch or neighbourhood, probably consisting of representatives of Britain, France, Italy, Bulgaria, Turkey, Jugo-Slavia and Rumania.

Bulgaria is dissatisfied with the decision regarding Dedeagatch, on the ground that such outlet would be useless to them unless they had unhampered possession thereof.

Ismet Pasha, consenting to the demilitarisation, remarked that Turkey was making a sacrifice. He suggested the establishment of guarantees of the inviolability of the demilitarised zone.

Later.
An arrangement has been reached for providing Bulgaria with an outlet on the Aegean.

It was regarded as the next best thing to Bulgaria's demand for possession of Dedeagatch, though it was felt that M. Venizelos might have stretched a point by ceding Dedeagatch, thus conciliating Bulgaria.

The Turks appear pleased over the arrangement, because it tends to thwart the attempt to reconstitute the Balkans League.

Lausanne, Nov. 25.
The American observer, Mr. Child, in a statement to the First Commission, emphasised that the sentiment of the American people overwhelmingly favoured the policy laid down in the memorandum of 30th October in reply to the invitation to be represented at the Conference, namely the assumption that the Allies will not carry into effect agreements in respect to Turkish territory which conflict with the principle of equality of economic opportunity and the open door.

Mr. Child was subsequently interrogated by journalists regarding the special meaning of the statement, but declined to reply.

A discussion in the French press about the possibility of the retrocession of Mosul to Turkey, and the re-arrangement of oil interests in Mosul, has excited much interest here. It is reported that a German interested in German concessions has arrived and has been communicating with the American observer, Mr. Child, but trustworthy information is unobtainable.

GREEK POLITICAL CRISIS.

Athens, Nov. 25.
The Cabinet has resigned in consequence of the refusal of M. Zaimis to assume the Premiership following a demarche.

The British Minister is urging the non-execution of ex-Ministers and others on trial for treason if sentenced to death.

M. Gonatas is forming a Cabinet with members of the Revolutionary Committee.

Reuter learns that Hon. F. O. Lindley will break off relations and leave Greece if the executions are carried out.

SMALL-POX EPIDEMIC IN BRITAIN.

London, Nov. 25.
The Ministry of Health is insisting on the necessity for vaccination owing to reports of small-pox of a virulent type in various parts of the country since the first case was discovered in Poplar on Oct. 27. Fifty-seven cases were sent to hospital in London alone, including 52 from Poplar. There have been 17 deaths. A telegram from Montreal states that a liner from England has been quarantined with an English passenger aboard suffering from small-pox.

THE INGOLSTADT INCIDENT.

Berlin, Nov. 25.
The Inter-Allied Military Mission has strongly protested to the German Government in regard to the crowd attacking British and French control officers at Ingolstadt in Bavaria. The Commission is immediately sending officers of various nationalities to Munich to reinforce the District Committee in order to show the German Government that the result of such incidents will be a considerable tightening up of Inter-Allied control.

HUGE AMERICAN STEEL COMBINE.

New York, Nov. 25.
The President of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation has announced the purchase of the Midvale Steel Company giving the corporation an ingot capacity of tons 7,500,000. The price was $97,500,000 payable in Bethlehem Common Stock. He added that the Attorney-General was satisfied regarding the regularity of the transaction but some opposition was to be expected by the Federal Trade Commission.

CLEMENCEAU'S CAJOLERY.

Washington, Nov. 25.
A British Embassy statement takes exception to M. Clemenceau's recent declaration that Britain "secured a guarantee of national safety" by the sinking of the surrendered German Fleet at Scapa Flow in 1919.

The Embassy denies any implication that the British authorities wilfully permitted the sinking.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Calcutta, Nov. 25.
After four days' discussion the All-India Congress Committee failed to achieve unanimity on the question of whether the non-co-operators shall be allowed to participate in the elections for the legislature, with the object of weakening reforms. The question was finally referred to the National Congress at Gaya on 27th December; likewise the question of boycotting British goods.

THE SEPARATIST MOVEMENT IN GERMANY.

Berlin, Nov. 25.
In the Reichstag a sensational attack was made by the socialists on Herr Mueller, Minister of Food, whom they accused of complicity in the separatists' movement in the Rhineland. Herr Mueller repudiated the accusation. The Chancellor promised an investigation. Herr Mueller subsequently resigned.

WAR EXTRAVAGANCE.

Washington, Nov. 25.
The Government has begun legal proceedings to recover sums totalling $175,000,000 dollars, alleged to represent excess expenditure involved in the construction of recruits' cantonments during the War.

HOME RACING.

London, Nov. 25.
The Manchester November Handicap resulted.—1, Toretore; 2, Arravale; 3, Orpi. Fourteen ran. Won by three lengths, six lengths between second and second. Betting 6 to 1 Toretore; 100 to 8 Arravale; 25 to 1 Orpi.

ARRESTS IN SHANGHAI.

Piratical Attempt on Yingchow?

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Nov. 25.
As the result of information received from Hongkong, the Shanghai River Police escorted the steamer Yingchow up the river. Fully armed French and Annamite police were awaiting at the Dock and patrolling it, while Chinese detectives made a search of the ship.

Forty-seven Chinese passengers were arrested and detained at the French Police Station, fire-trucks taking them from the Dock to the Station. The detectives are searching their luggage this afternoon and hoping to uncover another pirate plot.

Police Still Watchful.

Shanghai, Nov. 25.—Nothing has yet been found out with regard to the Yingchow passengers, which in any way incriminates them. The Police, however, kept a close surveillance on the a.s. Taisang, which left for Hongkong yesterday.

News in Brief.

The hearing of the case against Mr. Mack, in connection with the faked liquors scandal, will be resumed to-morrow.

The Pootung strikes have come to an end.

Majority Released.

Shanghai, Nov. 25.—The French Police yesterday arrested fifty Chinese passengers on the Butterfield & Swire steamer Yingchow, arriving from Hongkong.

According to a newspaper, advices were received from Hongkong reporting a pirate plot to seize the Yingchow after her next sailing from Shanghai, similarly to the Sui An.

All the arrested men who were able to establish their bona fides were released. The remainder, numbering twelve, are being held pending investigation.—Reuter.

SHANGHAI RACING.

Kiangwan Challenge Cup.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Nov. 25.
Social Union and Maresfield are favourites for the Kiangwan Challenge Cup.

The Winner of the Cup.

Shanghai, Nov. 25.—There was a large crowd present at Kiangwan races to-day, despite the bitter cold weather and slight fall of snow. Paper Money, carrying a Chinese jockey upset the talent in the last race by returning a dividend of $352.00.

The result of the Kiangwan Challenge Cup was also an upset. The favourites Social Union and Maresfield were not in the picture. The winner was Shenkoland. Nationalist was second, Thomas a Becket third.

COLOMBO'S TOWN HALL.

SKIM MILK

It is milk from which most of the fat (cream) has been removed.

Is it nourishing? Is it healthful?

IT IS BOTH!

We feed our calves on Skim Milk. You will never starve drinking Skim Milk. It contains all the nourishing elements—the casein, etc., which ordinary milk contains (less the fats only, and is far more easily digested than whole milk because it is not rich in fats).

Skim Milk is a low-priced milk, specially suitable for making Puddings and thickening Soups. It also has many other uses.

TRY IT!

You will soon be ordering it by the gallon.

A plentiful supply always on hand. Skim Milk is loaded with the now famous VITAMINES. Regular milk drinkers seldom suffer from diseases due to lack of Vitamines.

Milk for the kiddies is a builder of bone and muscle. Be on the safe side and let them drink Skim Milk instead of water.

THE COLD SNAP.

Nearly Freezing Point.

Overcoats and gloves were much in demand by mere men and fur coats by the gentler sex over the week-end, in consequence of the sudden cold snap experienced in the Colony. There was a phenomenal drop in the temperature, which on Saturday at 2 p.m. was 65 and by 6 a.m. on Sunday had fallen to 44. Early on Sunday morning the thermometer at the upper Peak Tram Station registered as low as 35 (or only three degrees above freezing point), the Kowloon temperature at this time being 49. As showing the marked difference in the temperature on the Peak and down below, it is interesting to record that at 10 a.m. yesterday the reading at the upper tram station was 38 and at the lower station 55. The lowest temperature recorded at the Observatory, Kowloon, up to midnight last night was 43 degrees.

Canton has also had a cold snap, the temperature there at 3 p.m. on Saturday being 65 and at 6 a.m. on Sunday it had fallen to 41, or three degrees lower than Hongkong.

As to the cause for this cold spell, it is expressed as follows in the Observatory report for yesterday:—"The feature of the weather has been the extraordinary increase of pressure from Formosa to Indo-China between 8 a.m. on the 25th, when it was 30.05 inches, to 5 a.m. on the 26th, when it was 30.44 inches."

Reports in town this morning were to the effect that no less than five sampans and small vessels were sunk in the north-eastern gale on Saturday night. Only one official report has been received and this states that a lighter which was under tow with a cargo of coal was sunk off the Canton Boat wharf, but no lives were lost.

HOMUNTIN SHOOTING.

Out of the eight men arrested in the investigations which followed the shooting of a Chinese detective at the bridge at Homuntin, only one has been retained by the police for trial before the Magistrate. This man, Lai Foon, was caught together with the others in a house at Kowloon City by a police party comprising Sergeant McNab Wilson and Inspectors. The evidence against him was complete when, on breaking open a black box, the officers found his photo lying together with two revolvers, one unloaded but the other charged in five of its six chambers.

Sentence of a year's hard labour was imposed by the Magistrate (Mr. J. R. Wood) before whom the prisoner was brought this morning.

LATE MR. JOHN MOORE.

Funeral at Happy Valley.

There was a large attendance at the funeral at Happy Valley of the late Mr. John Moore, of the Hongkong Electric Company, and the large number of wreaths also testified to the popularity of the deceased.

Among those present at the graveside were Mr. F. R. Marsh (general manager of the Company), Mr. G.H.M. Bannerman, Mr. F.F. Duckworth, Mr. Murray, and numerous friends. Mr. E. Moore, deceased's brother, was chief mourner. Wreaths were sent by: His sorrowing wife, mother, father and family, and brother; Mr. and Mrs. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dickens, Mr. and Mrs. S. Deacon, Mr. and Mrs. F.F. Duckworth, Mr. and Mrs. J.G.P. Foulds, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gerrard, Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. John Laing, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lunby, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. McNeillie, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. T. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Sloan, Mrs. Normington and family, Mr. and Mrs. Miss Russell; Messrs. G. H. M. Bannerman, J. Beck, R. F. Clark, Wm. Crich-ton, D. Haig, S. Hope, A. Leon, H. McKechnie, C. B. Matthews, A. R. Osborne, W. Robertson, R. W. Smith, J. B. Speirs, Somers and Hammond, R. Vosper, J. Webster, and Wai Po Cheung; Lodge "Eastern Scotia" 923 S. C., the Hongkong Electric Co., Ltd., the Station Staff, the Hongkong Electric Co. Mains Dept., the Chinese Staff at North Point, and the Chinese workmen at North Point.

The match was well supported, there being between 60 and 70 people present, including Mr. G. T. Edkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stewart, Mr. G. M. Young and a large number of ladies. During the tea interval, Mr. Edkins made a few remarks and proposed a vote of thanks to the Committee of the Chinese Recreation Club for their kindness in lending the ground and to Mr. Ho Leung for providing teas for those present, to which Mr. Leung suitably replied.

The Ewo-Taikoo cricket match, played at Saturday, which is reported elsewhere in this issue, was an exciting contest. Taikoo batted first and scored 59. Ewo scored 75 for 8 wickets but at one period of the innings the score was 30 runs with 5 wickets down, when Cornaby and Lyon pulled the game round. The fielding of both sides was excellent and accounted to a great extent for the low scoring.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES.

Tokio, Nov. 26.—Four thousand Russian refugees, stranded at Gensan, are reported to be in an increasingly deplorable state. Some deaths have already occurred.

It is stated here that the Japanese Red Cross Society is considering immediate relief on an adequate scale. The Tokio American Red Cross Society has contributed all its surplus funds. Its committee from Seoul is now caring for the children and aged.—Reuter.

THAT NEW WIRELESS.

Tokio, Nov. 26.—According to the Tokio Asahi, Mr. Obata, Japanese Minister to Peking, has been instructed to present another strong protest to the Chinese Government against the wireless concession granted to the American Federal Wireless Co. of San Francisco.—Reuter.

FIRE IN YOKOHAMA.

Tokio, Nov. 26.—A fire in Tsurumi, a suburb of Yokohama, has destroyed a lumber mill and a number of neighbouring factories. Damage is estimated at half a million yen.—Reuter.

DIET AND HEALTH.

Food is as important to the sick person as medicine, more so in most cases. A badly chosen diet may retard recovery.

In health the natural appetite is the best guide to follow; in sickness the appetite is often fickle and depraved.

Proper food and a good tonic will keep most people in good health. Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people are the most popular tonic medicine in the world, harmless, non-alcoholic, and certain in their action, which is to build up the blood and to restore vitality to the run-down system.

For growing girls who become thin and pale, for pale tired men and women, for old people who fail in strength, Dr. Williams' pink pills are an ideal tonic.

If your blood is thin and watery, if your digestion gives you trouble, if you have rheumatic pains, an aching back, nervous headaches, a general sense of inefficiency or weakness, you will do well to begin Dr. Williams' pink pills today. Any medicine dealer can supply you, or one bottle will be sent to you for $1.50, six for $8.00 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 968 Broadway, New York.

To the pale people who give these pills a trial to observe intelligent care in the diet, the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. will send on request free the helpful little book "Hobbies and Health."

TRADE OUTLETS.

Alternative Markets in China.

Although the trade returns for the first three quarters of the year, published last night, contain many encouraging features, there is no escape from the patent fact that the commerce and industry of this country are suffering from the restriction of market abroad that has been one of the results of the war, says the Times of October 13th. That is probably one of the reasons for the recent awakening of interest in Chinese markets.

With a population a hundred million greater than India, the potentialities of trade with China are enormous. At a luncheon of the Sino-British Trade Association, Mr. Tang Woodman, the Consul-General for China, referred to the excellent trade relations that had always existed between the two countries. He declared that his country had never had any trouble with British traders such as she had experienced with other nations. Gratifying as such a statement is, it might, with equal justice, be pointed out that the standard of commercial integrity in China has made business relations easy and profitable.

To-day the influence of Western civilization is bringing about gradual but perceptible changes, which are revealed in the new wants that have arisen. Young Chinese in increasing numbers are being educated abroad, and are obtaining practical experience in factories and workshops before returning home. They naturally are inclined to recommend to their countrymen the methods and machines with which they are familiar, and for this reason, if for no other, it is a great loss to British trade that so many young Chinese are going to the United States rather than coming to this country.

It seems an extraordinarily short-sighted policy to place any obstacles in the way of young Chinese getting their experience here. It is generally agreed that British manufacturers who desire to trade with Chinese markets must adopt the established merchant system which is regarded as indispensable; but that fact should not be allowed to become an excuse for apathy on their part. The Chinese buyer is faithful to the "chop," or brand, that he knows, and firms that take no steps to make their names and brands familiar can scarcely complain if they receive no orders from the merchants.

When the Chinese Consul-General invited British business men to visit his country and find out for themselves what was in demand there, he was probably offering them the soundest possible advice, for all the evidence seems to indicate that in the Far East they may find alternative markets for those that have been irretrievably lost to the present generation.

NEW MAMMOTH

FLOATING DOCK.

An order for one of the largest floating docks in the world, to be constructed at Southampton, was placed on October 13th, with Sir W. G. Armstrong Whitworth and Co. of Newcastle, by the London and South-Western Railway.

This new dock will have a lifting capacity of 60,000 tons, and can accommodate the largest vessels in the world.

The length (as previously stated in the "Daily Chronicle") will be 960ft., the width 170ft., while more than 16,000 tons of steel will be used in the construction.

The order involves about £1,000,000, and will give employment to a large number of men for nearly a year.

HONGKONG, 27th Nov., 1922.

PROTECTION OF ANIMALS

It is indeed gratifying to know that the local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has met with such success up to date, and that it is receiving the public's support. We suggest that many more persons could, if they wanted to, render valuable assistance to this cause. It is often merely a matter of bestirring one's self a little, and not leaving everything to be done by a devoted few. Public co-operation in reporting cases of cruelty to dumb life is necessary in order that the utmost can be done. Hongkong is fortunate in not having large numbers of beasts of burden in use, and the instances of cruelty to animals here are practically confined to the loading and unloading of live cargoes, the handling of poultry in the markets, and the accommodation of birds and animals in the dealers' shops. We have, here, none of the pitiful sights provided in countries where diseased horses and bullocks are daily belaboured until they actually drop down dead under the strain; and visitors to Hongkong often remark on the absence of the hordes of stray dogs, usually in the last stages of starvation, to be seen in so many other tropical cities. We can congratulate ourselves on the possession of a dog's home, and the coming possession of another and bigger institution for both dogs and cats; on the existence of humane methods for rounding up and destroying stray dogs; and on having in our midst an active branch of the S.P.C.A., with an enlarged membership providing an excellent augury of its continued good work.

It is mainly through the securing of the services of a full-time Inspector that the Society has been able to do such excellent work during the past few months. Inspector Fisher, in the short time he has been working for the Society, has shown that he is the right man in the right place. He has done splendidly so far, and what is particularly gratifying, is the fact that he has worked on the basis of "instruction" rather than "prosecution." That is the right line upon which to proceed until a healthier public opinion is created, though, of course, the more flagrant cases of cruelty call for strong action and the punishment of the guilty when they persist in their evil ways after due warning. From the instances given by Mr. Pollock of some of the forms of cruelty still practised in the Colony, it is clear that there is still much scope for preventive and educative effort, and in this regard we suggest that the Government might well work in co-operation with the Society, even strengthening the anti-cruelty laws and enlarging the powers of the Inspector.

We quite agree with Inspector Fisher that one cannot possibly do all that is needed in a campaign against cruelty to animals in this Colony. For that reason, it is to be hoped that the Society's financial position will soon enable the employment of further Inspectors. Here in an opportunity for the sympathetic public to assist with funds, in addition to which we think the Government might consider the making of a large yearly grant to this Society, which is doing an altogether excellent work, the value and extent of which are, however, materially curtailed through lack of money.

The Tragedy of Ireland.

One of the most tragic countries in the world is Ireland. It has a history almost unique in the world's annals. Of the ancient kings of Ireland, only a small percentage died in their beds. As with the rulers, so with the people—they had centuries of unrest, feuds, bloodshed, and disaster. Ireland's association with England has seen spells of peace, with comparative prosperity; but ever and anon has come a break in the chain of happy circumstance, and an era of tragedy to add yet one more wound to the suffering of the fair Emerald Isle. And the trouble has been that so many of these wounds have been kept open, when skilled attention might have healed them without difficulty. The story of Ireland's troubles since the Dublin rebellion alone, covering a space of only six years, is a sad, sad one. The population have had a continuous nightmare of uncertainty; even uncertainty of life. Hundreds of happy homes have been ruined at practically a few hours' notice, and thousands of, maybe, promising careers have been brought to an untimely end. On both sides, men in their prime have gone to their death in tragic sequences—in battle, through assassination, and through execution. The Near East and other world problems have focussed attention elsewhere, but through it all runs the undercurrent of Erin's great unhappiness. It must be the heartfelt wish of everyone in the Empire that a satisfactory settlement of the country's woes be achieved before long.

"Hiking" in Hongkong.

The delights of tramping along Hongkong's hillside paths, in cool weather, have been referred to before. We can imagine few better ways for residents here to obtain a whole afternoon of healthful, pleasant recreation than these truggles over the higher points of the island, especially if the route chosen goes occasionally off the beaten track. The truly magnificent scenery to be obtained from some of the outlying spurs, and the fine sunsets that the guidebooks refer to, are all food for the artistic soul. It might interest our readers to know that two residents of this place walked from Glenelg Ravine along Bowen Road, up to Ty-Tam Reservoir, down through the catchment area, and on to Shaukiwan, on Saturday afternoon. The distance of about twelve miles (including diversions along side-paths) was covered in about four hours. The doughty foot-sloggers have one observation to make—namely that there is a remarkable absence of signposts on the island. At several important cross-roads there is no indication whatever of where the roads lead to or the distance to the next inhabited point. The occasional "milestones" one meets with are usually not very informative.

To Stanley 6 miles," with branching roads right ahead, for instance, conveys very little. And some of these stones are so weatherbeaten that the inscriptions on them have become well-nigh indecipherable. All of which needs to be remedied.

The Shanghai interport tennis players left by the Taiyo Maru.

There was one Chinese case of enteric fever notified for the 48 hours ended yesterday.

The Muke Maru, which arrived this morning, brought five junk men whom she picked up off Hoihow.

Lieut. Conway Hake, assistant Harbour Master, arrived back from leave by the Gleniffer on Saturday.

The Empress of Australia, which has been delayed owing to certain machinery defects, has left Vancouver and is due here on December 14th.

The screening of "The Three Musketeers" at the Coronet has had to be unavoidably postponed, and for to-day only "Alf's Button," the popular British comedy, will be shown.

With regard to our report of the Greenfield case on Saturday, it should be pointed out that the Judge granted the application for a receiving order. Debtor was not adjudged bankrupt.

A large coloured picture intended to represent the pirating of the Sui An is being shown at a hat-maker's shop in Wellington Street to attract people to his store. Should this be permitted?

Six performances of "The Tempest" are to be given by the A.D.C. The dates are given in an announcement among to-day's advertisements. Booking opens at Moutrie's on December 1st, and early reservation is advised.

The wedding of Miss Constance Lucy Craven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Craven, and Mr. Reginald E. Greensmith, of Sassoon and Company, took place at Holy Trinity Cathedral, Shanghai, on Nov. 21st. The Rev. Dean Symons officiated.

On Friday last, the Bishop of Victoria, in his private chapel, licensed to officiate in the Diocese, the Rev. Edward Keith Quick, M.A., St. John's College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge. Mr. Quick is now serving as Master at St. Stephen's College and was formerly Master and Assistant Chaplain at Bedford School.

There will doubtless be a large audience at St. Andrew's Church Hall, Kowloon, at nine o'clock this evening to hear Mr. Christopher Pilkington give a lantern lecture on "Wanderings in West Africa." Mr. Pilkington is lecturer for the Selborne Society, London, and has made an extensive tour round the world. No charge is being made for admission.

It has been reliably reported that Mr. Kim Chang, the mayor designate for Canton, has expressed his willingness to assume his new office, says the Ping Man News Agency. Mr. Kim has instructed his assistants to make preparations for his inauguration. Official despatches announcing his acceptance of the appointment will be sent out by Mr. Kim within a few days.

The man sentenced last week to a year's gaol for forging and using a false chop on a document purporting to emanate from the Yeeshing shop was again brought up before Mr. R. E. Lindsell this morning. His Worship said that over the week-end he had considered the sentence, and as he now thought it to be excessive he would alter it and make it six months on each of the two charges. As the terms were ordered to be served concurrently, this will mean that the previous penalty imposed on the prisoner is reduced by half.

Disturbances occurred at Pootung on November 18th, and 19th, when the striking workers of the British-American Tobacco Company held processions, by way of a demonstration. It is stated that the disturbances resulted to some extent from a settlement effected between the Nikka Cotton Mill at Pootung and its strikers. The police arrested two men, when a large number of the workers demanded their release. The police aimed their rifles in the direction of the demonstrators, who immediately dispersed.

LOCAL FOOTBALL.

Saturday's Games.

(BY "QUIZ.")

Saturday's football matches resulted as follow:—

DIVISION I.

H.K. Club ... 5 Carlisle ... 0
Despatch ... 4 South China ... 0
Tamar ... 1 R.G.A. ... 1
Ambrose ... 2 Titania ... 1
Hawkins ... 0 Police ... 0

DIVISION II.

King's ... 6 Titania ... 0
R.G.A. ... 5 Police ... 1
Kowloon ... 3 Ambrose ... 1
Hawkins ... 2 S. China "A" ... 0
United ... 2 University ... 1
St. Joseph's ... 2 Carlisle ... 1
Marazion ... 2 Warders ... 1

The Durban matches were not played, owing to the vessel's late arrival in port. Some of Saturday's results were unexpected and quite upset the forecasts. The Police and Warders obtained their first goals in Division II.

Club v. Carlisle.

On the St. Joseph's ground, the Club fielded McCubbin at back, while Stewart returned to the team after a month's absence. The game was well contested and the sailors were unlucky to be five down at the close. Their shooting was bad, but Rodger was safe in goal. Forsyth netted for the Club, but the whistle had blown for an infringement by a defender in the penalty area and Forsyth scored from the penalty kick. Valentine worked the ball out of a melee in front of the Carlisle goal and beat Needham with a high shot. After the Carlisle had missed from a good position, Forsyth put them further ahead by again beating Needham.

Soon after the restart, Forsyth put on number four for the Club and then the Carlisle had a turn and forced a corner which was well cleared by Rodger. The sailors came through again and after the right wing had beaten McCubbin, Downward sent wide of the post from six yards' range. Valentine missed a good opening by kicking the ball straight to Needham after working for a good position, but a moment later he was in front of the goal and this time made no mistake, scoring the fifth goal for the Club. The final whistle sounded with the Club winning by five goals to nil.

R.G.A. v. Tamar.

This game was very evenly contested, and, on the run of play, a drawn game was a fitting result. In the opening minutes, play went in favour of the sailors, but the soldiers soon got into their stride and levelled up. At half-time there was no score. In the second half, each side scored a goal which the goalies in each case should have prevented. The R.G.A. took the lead from a high shot by McHugh, Routley in the sailors' goal misjudging the ball. Before the close, Phillips ran out to kick away from Cross but miskicked and Hill landed the ball in the net. The game ended in a draw of one goal all.

Police v. Hawkins.

Playing on the Navy "B" ground, the Police obtained their first point in the League this season, when they played the Hawkins to a goalless draw. The sailors did most of the pressing, but their shooting was much below their usual standard. The Police put up a sound defence and at times showed dash in their attack. Swan was brilliant in goal for the Police, while McWalter and Clark were safe at back, giving the sailors little chance to get within the danger zone. The Hawkins should have taken the lead from a penalty awarded against McLaren, but Swan saved at the expense of a corner. Just on time, Dr. Valentine got away but parted with the ball too soon and Hooper cleared. The game was fast throughout and the Police deserved to share the points on their good defensive play.

Ambrose v. Titania.

At Sookunpo, the Titania turned out for the first time this season in the League and failed to come up to expectations. The play was very fast, and the work of both goalies was well applauded. Ambrose were the first to score, Edmonds beating Phillips during a mix-up in front of the Titania's goal.

After the change of ends, the Titania took up the attack and forced a corner from which Grice headed the ball past Coys and made the score one all. Each team worked hard for the lead and it fell to the Ambrose, for Phillips pushing out the ball during a rush by the Ambrose forward line, it fell to the foot of Melbourne, who

FOOTBALL MEETING.

Some Interesting Matters.

Mr. R. J. Wilton presided at a meeting of the Hongkong Football Association on Friday, at which it was reported that Mr. Blake had resigned as Hon. Secretary of the Second Division.

The application by the Submarines to withdraw from the League was agreed to. The match between the Despatch and the Hawkins, played at Weihaiwei on October 10th, which resulted in a draw, was accepted as a League fixture. The Fleet Auxiliaries claimed the points against the University for the match fixed for 11th, instant, the latter failing to turn up. The claim was not allowed, and the match will be played at a future date. With regard to the unpleasant incidents at the Tamar-South China match, it was decided to write the Clubs regarding the conduct of four players cautioned.

Thanks were expressed to the Hongkong Football Club for acceding to the request to hand over the Challenge Shield to the Association, entries for which close on December 31st, on which date also entries close for a challenge trophy to be put up by the Association for 2nd Division teams on the cup-tie system.

It was reported that negotiations had been started with a view to arranging an interport football match with Shanghai. It was decided that a match, England v. Scotland, be held on the Club ground on Boxing Day, the teams to be chosen by a committee.

returned it into the net. The final whistle sounded with a win for the Ambrose as above.

Despatch v. South China.

On the South China ground the visitors gained a decisive victory by no less than four goals to nil. The first half was evenly contested and Fung Tai put the ball into his own goal through a misunderstanding by the defence. After the change of ends, the sailors had most of the play and were shooting from all angles, but Lau cleared his charge. However, the persistent attack by the sailors had their reward; for White notched two goals in quick time and before the close Henshaw again scored for the sailors, who deservedly won by four clear goals.

Junior Games.

In the Junior games, the King's Reserves had a runaway win over the Titania second team by six goals to nil. Critchlow, Carr and Livesey scoring in the first half of the game, while Carr (2) and Lowe added goals in the second.

At Sookunpo, a fast game between the United A.C. and University ended in a win for the former by two goals to one. For the winners, Brown scored twice in each half, and Lee got through for the University.

Kowloon managed to take their first points this season by a win over the Ambrose at Kowloon. Payne opened the score for the home team and Sperry added two goals. Before the close, Davis scored for the Ambrose.

The Hawkins accounted for South China "A" team by two goals to nil. Pope scored in the opening half and before the close Welman put them further ahead.

At Sookunpo, the R.G.A. beat the Police by five goals to one. Wilson and Shiel (3) scored for the Artillery before the change of ends, and Sadler added to the winners' total, while Angus scored for the Police.

The Marazion won their first game in the League by winning against the Warders on Navy "B" ground. Harlow scored for the sailors in the first half, and Habgood for the sailors. Griffiths scored for the Warders in the second.

St. Joseph's playing at home, beat the Carlisle by the odd goal in three. The sailors missed a penalty early in the game, but they took the lead when Hyndman put the ball through his own goal. Ogley scored for the College from a penalty and before the close Xavier gave them the lead.

HAS HAD ENOUGH OF TEMPERANCE.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The city of Evanston, home of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, voted for beer and light wines by a substantial majority, according to the official announcement of the vote at last week's election. Evanston adjoins Chicago on the north and has a population of about 40,000. Saloons were never permitted to operate in Evanston.

A prong was gingerly applied in an endeavour to discover the possible presence of other cartridges, but none were found.

A hut behind the Bay View Police Station was entered by seven armed robbers on Saturday night and money and property of the total value of $264 stolen. The gang were armed with revolvers and knives, with which they intimidated the only inmate found on the premises. To the police, Lam Ying, the victim, stated that the last he saw of the robbers was when they ran up the hillside in the direction of Tsat Tse Mui.

ARMS CASES.

Woman With Toy Pistol.

Wong Yau-sai, arrested aboard the s.s. Provincial Wilson in possession of a revolver which he secreted in a pillow, was charged by Sergeant Andew, who made the arrest, at the Police Court this morning and sentenced to pay a fine of $200, or to undergo three months' hard labour in default.

Speculation was rife over the identity of a woman who was arrested going aboard the Kowloon steamer On Lee in possession of a pistol and a number of rounds. They were carried in her girdle. It was stated by Mr. F. G. Vaux, who represented the woman at the Police Court this morning, that the weapon was of small pattern. The woman had been a number of years in residence in the United States and was now returning to her native place at Kowloon.

Inspector Caygill said that the pistol was of French manufacture and was more like a toy than anything else. He had no reason to believe that the woman was anything other than a bona fide traveller.

Mr. J. R. Wood inflicted a nominal fine of $150 and ordered the confiscation of the pistol.

TWO FIRES.

Girl Burnt to Death.

The premises of the China Rattan Products Company, comprising four godowns situated at Causeway Bay, were burnt down in a fire on Saturday afternoon and damage to the extent of $30,000 was done. The loss is covered by insurance with three different companies.

Later in the same afternoon, another fire occurred at No. 196 Canton Road, originating, it is believed, in the ground floor where was stored a quantity of gunny bags and groundnuts. The blaze extended to the upper floor and caused the death of a ten-year-old girl, named Chan So, whose charred remains were subsequently recovered from the ruins. A man was arrested in the vicinity of the fire by a police officer on suspicion that the tape measure he was carrying was obtained for a period in view of a possible claimant.

WHAT DID SHAKESPEARE MEAN? It is said that Prospero's speeches are a more direct expression of Shakespeare's own sentiments and intentions than are to be found in any of his other plays. Is it true that Prospero, the Magician, when he says "deeper than did ever plummet sound, I'll drown my book" and "thence retire me to my Milan" is Shakespeare, the poet, telling his audience that "The Tempest" is his last play written before he retires to the country life of Stratford, "where every third thought shall be my grave"?

WING WO STREET OUTRAGE.

The Two Arrested Men on Trial.

The two men who were arrested in connection with the Wing Wo Street outrage, in which the Chinese detective who figured so largely in the Wo Ping Theatre murder case—Sin Chuen—was shot, appeared before Mr. Justice Gompertz, at the Criminal Sessions, this morning.

The Attorney-General (Hon. Mr. J. H. Kemp) conducted the case for the Crown, and Mr. Campbell Prosser (instructed by Messrs. Lee and Russ) appeared for the defence.

The crime took place on the evening of Sept. 29th. According to the Crown's story, about a quarter past seven on the night in question somebody knocked at the door of No. 26, Wing Wo Street. The door was opened by a small boy and a number of men entered. Three or four were armed with revolvers and some had daggers. One of the inmates was gagged and put into a back cubicle.

Another was similarly dealt with and placed in a front cubicle. There was also a visitor. He was rather unlucky. He arrived about half-past five that evening. He went out to make a few purchases and when he returned, two hours later, the robbers bound and gagged him and pushed him into a front cubicle. The robbers took the keys of the accountant's room and got away with money and jewellery. The intruders ran out of the house when somebody in the premises blew a whistle.

Sin Chuen and another detective were standing outside No. 6, Wing Wo Street, when they noticed five or six men standing outside No. 26. These men began to move away quickly and then began to run. The two detectives went in pursuit and in the chase Sin Chuen was killed by a shot fired by one of the gang. Another detective was going along Des Voeux Road. He took part in the chase and assisted to catch a man inside the Sun Company's premises.

Another detective, walking along Wing Lok Street, heard a shot. He joined in the pursuit and helped to arrest a man on the Praya. He was assisted by a Chinese constable who was on the Praya at the time and saw a number of men running towards him. Mr. de Rocha, the auctioneer, was in Des Voeux Road, and he also chased the man who was caught in the premises of the Sun Company.

The two men when arrested denied the charges. On one of the prisoners was found a gold chain, which was one of the articles stolen. He said he picked it up in Des Voeux Road. The other said he did not know where was Wing Wo Street.

The Attorney-General told the jury—Messrs. J. Hooper, C. G. Kirken, S. Baker, V. M. Barradas, J. E. Joseph, W. K. Reynolds and J. O. Sheppard—that it was not part of his case that either of the two men in the dock actually fired the shot which caused the death of the detective, Sin Chuen. In fact, the evidence went to show that one of the prisoners did not fire that shot. The Attorney-General submitted, however, that both men were guilty of the murder under the doctrine of common purposes.

The trial is likely to be a fairly long one and is expected to last two days. The Attorney-General told the Court that he had twenty-five witnesses altogether. Six were formal witnesses, five would prove the robbery, six would give evidence of the chase, and there would be seven police witnesses, who would deal with minor points. Two of the witnesses each identified one of the prisoners as having taken part in the robbery.

AN ELUSIVE JUNK.

Believed to Have Arms Aboard.

Somewhere within the waters of the harbour there is believed to be a junk whose movements have given considerable anxiety to the water-police. The difficulty is to know her from the large number of similar vessels in harbour, but it is believed that she has been a big haul of arms like the one made a week ago would in all probability result.

This junk is known to have put off the President Wilson which arrived here from the States over the week-end, it is believed with a considerable quantity of arms and ammunition destined for transport. Officers of the water police are keeping a sharp look-out to see that his vessel does not run out of harbour.
